1. In the depth of a night

One day, at night
In the depth of the night
In front of a glass of wine
We shared a glassful of our story
In front of a second glass of wine
We shared two glassfuls of our familiar happy stories
In front of a third glass of wine
We made love, love, love, love

One day, at night
In the depth of the night
In front of a glass of wine
We shared a glassful of our story
In front of a second glass of wine
We shared two glassfuls of our sad stories
In front of a third glass of wine
We felt so lonely, lonely, lonely, lonely

One night, in the depth of the night
We looked at each other withloneliness

2. Oh my children

We raised two children and became empty nesters
Cooking is so simple, laundry is much less
We are so happy to play house

Children, children, oh my children
Are you doing okay?

We raised two children and became empty nesters
We start to learn golfing, start to learn ballroom dancing
We are so happy to play house

Children, children, oh my children
Please do well

Are you doing okay?
Please do well...

Written after my son left for college 1996

3. One Autumn Day

One day when autumn leaves were marvelously beautiful
I stopped walking and looked back at the hills I passed
Stepping on the fallen scattered leaves
Stepping on the memories of my past

Ah – is it already autumn?
Ah – is it already autumn?

Maybe it is a fall to look back at my life

One day when the sky looked so marvelously blue and high
I raised my head and looked towards the end of the sky
Stepping on the fallen scattered leaves
Stepping on the particles of my dreams

Ah – is it already autumn?
Ah – is it already autumn?

Maybe it is a fall to reflect on my dreams
Yes, it is my fall so long and so beautiful

4. You and I

Between today and tomorrow
If you and I are together
We will talk all night
We will sing all night
We will laugh all night
And it will be a beautiful night

Hand in hand together
Looking at each other
Eyes meet
Smiles bloom
The more and more I look at you
The more and more I love you
It is a beautiful night
Laughing and laughing all night

La la la la la.....

Between today and tomorrow
If you and I are together
We will talk all night
We will sing all night
We will laugh all night
And it will be a beautiful night

Shoulder to shoulder together
Walking together at night
Enchanted by the sweet aroma
The wind carried to us of flowers
Under the bright moonlit sky
You and I are the only ones
It is a beautiful night
Laughing and laughing all night

La la la la la.....

5. Today

Today, today, I feel alone
Today, today, I feel alone
Lonely night, lonely night, lonely night

The kind words of love, the gentle gestures of love
The sweet look of love, they are all so vain
So lonely, so lonely

On a bright sunny autumn morning
I'll be a sparkling sun
On a bright sunny autumn morning
I'll be the blue sky

Today, today, I feel alone, alone, alone

*Written after my husband said something not nice to me and fell asleep
Even without knowing that I was hurt and sad. 1998*

6. Dream Love

Do you know a dream love?
Have you ever had a dream love?

In a long, long time living together with you
I think maybe dream love is like this:
Dream love did not come to me,
With the blowing wind nor
Riding on a white horse
But dream love always makes me aspire
Understands me without words
And taking care of me without words

Do you know a dream love?
Have you ever had a dream love?

Dream love did not appear to me
From a splendid cloud
But dream love always stays next to me
And takes care of me without words
And protects me without words

Do you know a dream love?
Have you ever had a dream love?

Dedicated to my husband, on Valentine Day in 1997

7. Wet Asphalt Road

On a wet asphalt road a shadow of a street light sways in the wind
When the shadow sways it makes my mind sway

One night we swam along the moonlight on the ocean
We swam to the end of the light and came back in the middle of it

Listening to the rain falling in rhythm
Calming my mind with its beat
Looking at the street light shining in the dark
Its shadow looks more splendid than the light itself

One night we swam along the moonlight on the ocean
We swam to the end of the light and came back in the middle of it

In memory of our trip to JeJoo Island

8. Leave the door Open

Leave the door open, don't close it
At the end of the day, I sing my work
I sing my love, and I sing my suffering
All of a sudden when forgotten sadness visits my mind
Standing here still, I watch my sadness

Leave the door open, don't close it
At the end of the day, I sing my work
I sing my love, and I sing my joy
All of a sudden a blue moon visits and shines in my mind
Standing here still, I look at the bright world

Beautiful night, starry night
In between the open mind
Precious stories are shared
Streams of happy smiles are flowing

Leave the door open, don't close it

9. Kyong Gi Daughters

We gather together at this place after a long time has passed
Familiar faces, laughing faces, what a happy gathering
We are the daughters of the Kyong Gi
Be truthful, be compassionate, and be beautiful

Though we have walked different roads
We have all lived our best with what's given to us and with wisdom
We are the daughters of the Kyong Gi
Be truthful, be compassionate, and be beautiful

Though we will leave each other and go down different roads
We will never forget the spirit of Kyong Gi until we die
We are the daughters of the Kyong Gi
Be truthful, be compassionate, and be beautiful

Written for the 30th High School reunion in 1996
